

Cérat des Alpes

Cold cream that moisturises, regenerates and soothes
Daily care for very dry skin types

Our Cérat des Alpes cold cream was created specifically to respect the softness of children's skin. It restores the natural moisture of skin that has become overly dry, and it soothes sensitive skin. Jojoba oil and bee's wax preserve skin's softness and suppleness. Natural Calendula and Madonna lily extracts work together to harmonise cutaneous development. Its rich composition, natural mineral water (captured at an altitude of 1800 m) and smooth texture make Alpaderm's cold cream a complete skincare product for the face and body.

Usage: Alpaderm cold cream is for children and adults who have fragile and over-dry skin. Massage skin gently several times a day to help it regain its suppleness and get the best emollient results. The cold cream can be used as after sun.

Dermatology tested
Alcohol free - contains no parabens, phenoxyethanol, phthalates, silicon, mineral oil, artificial color or fragrance.

Cérat des Alpes

First-time use: our creams are designed for fragile and delicate skin. Nonetheless, it is always best to ensure compatibility by first applying a small amount on the inside of the wrist or elbow.

Storage and temperature: as with most cosmetics, Alpaderm products should not be subject to wide changes in temperature. They should be stored in a cool, dry place away from direct sunlight. Bathrooms are thus not ideal for storage.

Since Alpaderm products are all-natural, their colour, smell and consistency may change slightly over time. This is totally normal and does not change product quality at all.

Useful lifetime after opening: we recommend that you use our cold cream within 3 months after opening. Please respect the use-by date indicated on the package.

Precautions: cold cream designed for external use only. Do not swallow. Avoid contact with eyes.
